

George Kevin Elliott is an advocate at heart. In the 1980s, he began advocating for Queer and Trans communities and was an early HIV/AIDS educator and he has worked with undocumented immigrants on human rights and public health. Elliott has also focused on independent living for people with disabilities. Upon retirement, he has championed dignity for people struggling with housing.